

BOSTON WANTS OUR BOYS.

The Hub Base Ball Management Negotiating For Omaha Players.

A VERY LIBERAL OFFER MADE.

The Entire Club to Be Purchased But Only the Eight Best to Be Retained—Secretary Brandt Off For Chicago.

Standing of the Clubs. Following will be found the standing of the Western association up to and including yesterday's game:

Table with columns: Club, Won, Lost, P. Ct. Rows include Omaha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, etc.

The Bean Eaters Up to Snuff.

In Omaha a ball club next year, or not? That is a question that will agitate the minds of the legion of local patrons after they shall have perused the present issue of The Bee.

The special telegram from Boston published in this paper yesterday morning and which hinted at a wholesale disposal of the Omaha team to Messrs. Seloe, Conant and Billings, the base ball moguls of the Hub, contained more truth than poetry, as assiduous investigation on the part of The Bee's base ball man has developed.

Word by word from a friend in Chicago yesterday afternoon furnished a clue to the information subsequently gathered, and the public credit upon the authenticity of the matter rested upon.

Late in the afternoon the president, secretary and directors of the Omaha base ball association held a secret convocation, just where is of no particular moment, but that much that is of importance and interest to base ball patrons is certain.

A lengthy communication from Messrs. Conant and Billings, the Boston club men, and Manager Frank Seloe, of the Omaha team, who are now at the Grand Pacific, Chicago, received by President McCormick yesterday morning, at once served as an abundant fund for discussion.

Embodied in this communication was a proposition from Boston to purchase the Omaha team, which was to be made through the source above mentioned, and which runs as follows: For a handsome sum, running way up into the thousands, Boston virtually agrees to buy the entire Omaha team, but after selecting as many of the men as they deem of use to them, out of the thirteen now on Omaha's roster, the balance are to remain in the property of the Omaha club, to form the nucleus of a team for next year if the management here sees proper to continue the venture.

Further, out of the thirteen men constituting the Omaha club, the Boston parties agree to hold out eight, leaving Omaha a balance of five without cost. At the close of the Western association championship game between the Omaha and Chicago, the proposition further specifies, Manager Seloe is to take the entire team intact to the Hub, and the selections will then be made after the boys have been sized up on the field.

The price offered by Conant & Co., could not be ascertained from the Omaha club, but it is not only authorized to confer with and close the deal with Boston, but to go on to the Hub and be present when the eight men are selected. It is further intimated to proceed to Brooklyn and other eastern cities and dispose of the remaining five players for whatever price can be obtained for them. Mr. Brandt is to keep President McCormick posted as to the result of his meeting with the Boston parties, and to report to the Omaha club until he receives the final order from this end of the line.

This it will be recalled that Omaha's prospects for base ball next year are no longer indeed. The directors have advanced the argument that they have been induced to take this course in order to secure for themselves support the team has received here this season, and the fact that next season, from the outlook, means a big loss of money, inasmuch as new buildings erected, and enormous expense incurred to even give the venue a faint semblance of a first-class affair, coming ahead this season, the settlement made yesterday clearly demonstrated that somebody must go down in their pockets to break even. The receipts for the season of last season, and without more tangible encouragement than is being at present advanced by those who take an active interest in the maintenance of Omaha's base ball club, the management say they do not feel justified in conceding to the Boston enterprise. They also explain bitterly that the corporations deriving big revenue by the way of transportation and other means have not shown the proper spirit, and they are tired of fattening the coffers of parties who refuse to make any concessions or the slightest reciprocal favors. While the Omaha club lost money, the cable line has reaped a bounteous harvest.

This will be the most unwelcome news for the lovers of the great game in Omaha, but it is inevitable unless affairs assume a different phase within the present week. If the Boston deal is made, Omaha can not expect any base ball next year at least. The franchise will have to be purchased by other parties, and the arduous work of tending to gether the team will be left to those who there can be a resumption of the sport here.

Who is there among Omaha's moneyed men who wants to go into the game, and who is the face of the present team's past two seasons' experience? Can anybody answer? Just now it would be a difficult matter to name a single one. Base ball is no longer a hobby, but a business as any other class that goes to make up the great mercantile world. Men invest in stocks and real estate, with the expectation of realizing on the investment, and not for the purpose of furnishing a few hundred a couple of hours' sport every afternoon, and setting up at the close of the season at about the individual rate of $25 a same or more. That becomes irksome. Base ball has made many a man and broken many another.

St. Paul, Minneapolis and other papers in Western associations cities have wired their Omaha correspondents for the above account.

St. Paul 7, Omaha 5.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 24.—St. Paul and Omaha began their just series of games this afternoon. The visitors could do nothing with many a fair hit, in fact, and they secured more than one hit. The game postponed from yesterday will be played Thursday. Score:

Score table for St. Paul vs Omaha. Columns: Club, Runs, Hits, Errors, Total.

The Fly Cops Disgusted.

The police are much piqued over their failure in getting onto the Corrigan-Hill fight which took place on Wednesday last Sunday. All the same the fly cops have been scouring South Omaha and the bottoms all day for the offenders, but up to midnight had failed to make an arrest.

Worley Wants Half.

Dr. H. H. Worley insists on receiving half of the purchase money for the Omaha base ball management deal, and this action on his part will probably put a stop to Grand Island's negotiations for him.

No Fight as Usual.

The Gate city athletic club declines to hang up a purse for Lindsey and McHale to fight for, owing to the provisions of the articles of agreement, which call for a fight with a minimum of three rounds.

Minneapolis 15, Denver 1.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 24.—Denver supported Pagan nearly to-day and he lost.

FROM THE HAWK EYE STATE.

A Young Moulder Murdered at Marshalltown.

Marshalltown, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—A foul murder was committed in this city this evening in a quiet neighborhood. A citizen's attention was attracted by a groan and on investigation found a young man named John Cathers lying on the sidewalk. He was unconscious and died in a few moments. Examination disclosed a knife wound over the heart. The cause for the deed and the perpetrator are not known, but several suspicious characters have been arrested. Deceased was aged twenty-three, single, a moulder by trade, and the son of a widow.

Yankee Robinson's Grave.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Some recent erroneous statements have been sent out from Fort Dodge in regard to the grave of the well-known showman, "Yankee Robinson." A letter from Jefferson, Ia., gives the true facts in the case. It says that some time in August of 1884 "Yankee Robinson" came to Jefferson for the purpose of visiting the Cory family. Upon his arrival at Jefferson he was very ill, and he also ascertained that his son was not in Jefferson. "Yankee" was taken to the Head house, and without money and without friends, the outlook was very sorrowful for him. The facts being made known, Morning Star Lodge No. 159, A. F. A. M., of Jefferson, at once took charge of the sick man, placed a competent nurse in charge, called the best of physicians to treat him, and when he died, which occurred the fourth day of September, 1884, the above named lodge had him buried in the Cory cemetery in the lot set apart and owned by the Masonic brotherhood for the interment of their beloved dead. The Masonic fraternity at that time advanced the expenses of his last sickness—his burial expense, his physicians' bills and purchased and gave a ticket for his daughter to ride home in the case after the body was buried. He was penniless. Among the duties of the sexton is the care of the grave for "Yankee Robinson" and the Cory family. The grave is located as finely as any in the cemetery, and is kept as "green" as though attended by the best of gardeners. Recently when Sells Brothers circus visited Jefferson, a procession was formed, led by the officers of the lodge, and a visit of respect was made to the grave of the dead showman, where flowers were scattered to show their respect and sympathy toward the dead man. At that time Sells Brothers placed in the hands of the Green county bank $75 to be used in purchasing a monument for the grave of the dead showman. Ringland Brothers' circus informed the bank that they wished to contribute to that fund and asked for the receipt. The bank offering was received. This has been done and the $75 is still with the bank to be used for the purpose named.

Second Day of the Cron Palace.

Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The weather, which was threatening yesterday, cleared off beautifully for the second day of the Cron Palace festival. Great crowds have been arriving by regular and special trains all the roads. The wheelmen's parade occurred at 11 o'clock and there were a large number of spectators. The special trains are crowded. Six extra coaches had to be put on the Illinois Central special at Dubuque.

The Billings Trial.

Waterloo, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—A probably fatal accident that happened to J. J. Roubillat's child caused the adjournment of the trial of the Billings case goes over until tomorrow afternoon, when court convenes again. It is said the defense will spring another sensation. They secured a witness at Colfax who will, it is said, testify that Henry Redington, the ballif who has died since the former trial, gave him a pistol, and that he carried it on his person. The witness is a man of 32 calibre, the same kind as those found in the revolver near King'sley. These cartridges, he says, he had in his pocket when he was in King'sley. He says he was not to destroy them, but claims he did not do it, and can produce them. This afternoon he was sent to Waterloo, where he is being held in custody. The case is of great importance and was developed this morning. The minutes of the former trial were read and a few witnesses examined relative to Billings' case. The case is expected to be concluded by the end of the week.

Davenport Shippers Have a Hearing.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The second hearing in the case of the Davenport shippers against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific and the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern railways was argued before the railway commission this afternoon. The decision will not be made for some days.

Orphans Well Cared For.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The trustees for the Iowa soldiers' orphans' home and Iowa home for indigent children at Davenport, have made their report to the governor at Davenport this morning ending June 30, 1889. There were 88 soldiers' orphans and 283 orphans from the various counties of the state in the institution at that time. Excellent care is taken of these unfortunate cases being furnished with well cooked, plain and wholesome food, neat and well made clothing and each child given every advantage possible for their moral and physical development. The total receipts for the biennial period were $1,583.70 and the expenditures $40,941.64.

Sentenced for Life.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Yesterday ended one of the most dastardly murder cases that ever occurred in this county. Last June one Walter Terrell and George Anderson, both colored, were paying their attentions to a mulatto girl by the name of Sadie Thomas, and jealousy arose over the dusky maiden that caused her to shoot her wayward lover in wait and shooting him on his return home in the evening. The tragedy ended by Judge Cass sentencing Anderson upon a verdict of guilty to the state penitentiary for life.

Harrison County Republicans.

Missouri Valley, Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The republican county convention met at Logan this afternoon. A full ticket was nominated. Prof. W. G. Riddle, president of the Woodbine Normal school, received the nomination for representative to the state legislature.

Harrison County's Coming Fair.

Missouri Valley, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The Harrison county fair is anticipated. President Cox and Secretary Hoobrock are entering in their work and efforts to make it a thorough success.

LIBERAL PREMIUMS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Liberal premiums in all departments are offered. Liberal purses in the speed department, in the department of entries and a number of interesting and hotly contested races are anticipated.

CEREAUX MANSONS.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The Iowa consistory, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite (Cereaux Mansons) met in annual session to-day, fixed the place of their next meeting at Council Bluffs and elected the following officers: George P. Wilson, Grand Master; J. H. Hill, Grand Secretary; J. J. Stegman, Council Bluffs; first lieutenant: E. J. Babcock, Davenport; second lieutenant: N. A. McAtley, Wilton; master of ceremonies: A. E. Potter, Burlington; grand chancellor: T. K. Munn, Iowa Falls; grand treasurer: E. H. Barber, Cedar Rapids; grand secretary: No action was taken on the recent decision of Judge Preston.

CHEESE, BUTTER AND EGG ASSOCIATION.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The executive committee of the Cheese, Butter and Egg association met to-day and decided to hold the state meeting at Mason City, November 13 to 14, and prepared a programme for the meeting. The prospects are good for a large attendance and an interesting convention.

A Des Moines Restaurant Failure.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The failure of the restaurant at Des Moines, owned by Willis & Fuller, who have kept one of the finest restaurants in the city for several years, failed to-day by the foreclosure of a mortgage for $2,400.

Indicted For Embezzlement.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—E. D. Siedman, late treasurer of Horton county, has been indicted by the grand jury for embezzlement for the purpose of $1,000. He is charged with the embezzlement of $1,000 from the Horton county treasury. He is defended by Senator Nichols.

Escape of Four Prisoners.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Four prisoners in the Green county jail at Jefferson escaped last night by cutting through the floor and tunneling under the wall. They were in for a burglary committed July 1.

White Caps Fined.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—At Vinton to-day six of the eight Van Horn White Caps pleaded guilty, and were fined $300 and sentenced to one day in the county jail.

THE SPEED RING.

Grand Circuit Races Postponed. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Owing to continuing rain, the grand circuit meeting has been held over till the track is in condition. It is still raining, and the prospects are quite unfavorable.

Gravesend Races.

Gravesend, Sept. 24.—The great first special race was the feature of the day. Five furlongs, two-year-olds, six furlongs, acknowledged king of the turf, Kingston, pass under the wire a length in front of Raceland. The pace in the last furlong was terrific, but Kingston was king of the lot, and amid the wildest excitement he galloped under the wire a winner by a length in 2:06 1/2, a half second better than the record.

Denver Races.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 24.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Chilly cold weather retarded the attendance at the Overland park races. Summum running, three-fourths of a mile, purse $200—Red Elm won, Receiver second, Donut third. Time—1:17 1/2. Second race, Denver cup, one mile, and a half, purse $100—Patricia second. Time—2:45 1/2. Third race, trotting, 2:47 class, purse $300—Mildred second, R. M. second, Rowdy third. Best time—2:34 1/2. Fourth race, running, half mile heats, purse $175—Red Elm won. Best time—3:04 1/2.

Louisville Races.

Louisville, Sept. 24.—The weather was clear and the track good. Summary: Half mile—Aunt Kate won, Sister Geneva second, Silver Lake third. Time—51. Half mile—Mildred won, Samantha second, Donut third. Time—60. Handicap, one and one-sixteenth miles—Wary won, Curious second, Kate Maone third. Time—1:40 1/2. Three-fourths of a mile—Swamp Fox won, Betina second, May O third. Time—1:17. Seven-eighths of a mile—Lucy P. won, Mabel second, Bonnie third. Time—1:45. Seven-eighths of a mile—Lucy P. won, Mabel second, Bonnie third. Time—1:45.

One Reuser Lost.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Ernest Wellington, the negro, who was killed by the explosion of the flat top of Tom Branch to-night, the men were sparring, when Branch knocked Wellington out, breaking his neck.

A Negro Turning White.

Rev. Thomas Cole, pastor of the East Dallas Street M. E. church at Houston, is in the city attending the colored Sunday school convention, says the Galveston News. Rev. Mr. Cole is the victim of a very peculiar freak of nature, and from a black man is rapidly turning white. He says the change began to first manifest itself in 1885, when he was working for the late Dr. McClanahan of this city. It first appeared in the hair, and the surface has begun to enlarge and spread all over his body in spots of various dimensions, from seven inches in length to three or four inches in width down the back of his neck. The complexion of a large size bird shot. He says his body is striped like a zebra. His hands are nearer white than black, and his face is beginning to turn, making him a very conspicuous object.

A Magnanimous Thief.

A very considerable thief who entered J. P. Beekley's house at Glensboro, N. J., a night or two ago, stole $16 from Mr. Beekley's trousers, but left a $5 bill on a chair with this note: "I'm not a hog."

BALCOMBE AND THE BLOCKS.

The Council Committee Decides That Both Are All Right. SMOOTHING RUFFLED FEATHERS. Stone for the City Hall—Supervisors of Registration Appointed—The Viaduct Moved Up a Notch. The Council. The council lobbyists were hard to shake last night. The council in early and stayed as long as they dared. They filled the audience room and pre-empted the councilmen's seats and desks. President Lee arrived at 8 o'clock and was buttonholed at the door. He fought manfully, and at 8:30 o'clock reached his seat of honor, red in the face and badly winded, but still smiling.

The Council.

The council lobbyists were hard to shake last night. The council in early and stayed as long as they dared. They filled the audience room and pre-empted the councilmen's seats and desks. President Lee arrived at 8 o'clock and was buttonholed at the door. He fought manfully, and at 8:30 o'clock reached his seat of honor, red in the face and badly winded, but still smiling.

The Simple Monument Which Marks the Nightingale's Last Home.

Mr. W. J. Florence, when heard from a day or two ago, was at the Springs, Malvern, among the beautiful Gloucestershire hills, says a London correspondent of the New York World. He is in good luck, for he is the first day of this month he visited the grave of Jenny Lind, in the quiet cemetery of that retired country village. The last resting place of the Swedish Nightingale is marked by an unpretentious monument of six feet high and surrounded by a simple granite cross.

JENNY LIND'S GRAVE.

The closely cut grass of emerald green is enclosed by a low iron fence about ten feet high. Mr. Florence has a sketch of the lonely little monument, which is reproduced above.

IT TELLS YOU AGE. The Latest Drop-a-Nickel Machine Won't be Popular With Women. The latest "drop-a-nickel-in-the-slot" machine to make its public appearance is a device contrived to make the unenlightened observer believe that the evil one is behind it, says the New York Times. It is a neat little nickel-plated instrument, not only six feet high and pedestal, and will tell any man's age—and any woman's too—with an invariable accuracy that is startling. The instrument itself is about twelve inches in height, and in its face are set six vertical rows of figures, running in an uneven, jerky way from five to eighty. Over each column is a sort of little piston rod, with a flat metal top.

The printed directions tell you first to drop your nickel in the slot, then press your foot hard down on a little pedal that projects from the base of the pedestal. This done, you are instructed by a printed slip that pops out beneath the figures to press down on the figures with your foot over each of the columns which contain two figures in your age. Thus, if you are twenty-six years old, say, you find that number in one of the columns and press down the rod. Immediately the top of the piston rod in figure 8. You look for another column with twenty-six in it, press the rod and the figure 10 comes quickly out. Then you find another 26 in another column, press the rod and 8 is the result. Add 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

THE COUNCIL COMMITTEE DECIDES THAT BOTH ARE ALL RIGHT.

SMOOTHING RUFFLED FEATHERS. Stone for the City Hall—Supervisors of Registration Appointed—The Viaduct Moved Up a Notch. The Council. The council lobbyists were hard to shake last night. The council in early and stayed as long as they dared. They filled the audience room and pre-empted the councilmen's seats and desks. President Lee arrived at 8 o'clock and was buttonholed at the door. He fought manfully, and at 8:30 o'clock reached his seat of honor, red in the face and badly winded, but still smiling.

The Council.

The council lobbyists were hard to shake last night. The council in early and stayed as long as they dared. They filled the audience room and pre-empted the councilmen's seats and desks. President Lee arrived at 8 o'clock and was buttonholed at the door. He fought manfully, and at 8:30 o'clock reached his seat of honor, red in the face and badly winded, but still smiling.

The Simple Monument Which Marks the Nightingale's Last Home.

Mr. W. J. Florence, when heard from a day or two ago, was at the Springs, Malvern, among the beautiful Gloucestershire hills, says a London correspondent of the New York World. He is in good luck, for he is the first day of this month he visited the grave of Jenny Lind, in the quiet cemetery of that retired country village. The last resting place of the Swedish Nightingale is marked by an unpretentious monument of six feet high and surrounded by a simple granite cross.

JENNY LIND'S GRAVE.

The closely cut grass of emerald green is enclosed by a low iron fence about ten feet high. Mr. Florence has a sketch of the lonely little monument, which is reproduced above.

IT TELLS YOU AGE. The Latest Drop-a-Nickel Machine Won't be Popular With Women. The latest "drop-a-nickel-in-the-slot" machine to make its public appearance is a device contrived to make the unenlightened observer believe that the evil one is behind it, says the New York Times. It is a neat little nickel-plated instrument, not only six feet high and pedestal, and will tell any man's age—and any woman's too—with an invariable accuracy that is startling. The instrument itself is about twelve inches in height, and in its face are set six vertical rows of figures, running in an uneven, jerky way from five to eighty. Over each column is a sort of little piston rod, with a flat metal top.

The printed directions tell you first to drop your nickel in the slot, then press your foot hard down on a little pedal that projects from the base of the pedestal. This done, you are instructed by a printed slip that pops out beneath the figures to press down on the figures with your foot over each of the columns which contain two figures in your age. Thus, if you are twenty-six years old, say, you find that number in one of the columns and press down the rod. Immediately the top of the piston rod in figure 8. You look for another column with twenty-six in it, press the rod and the figure 10 comes quickly out. Then you find another 26 in another column, press the rod and 8 is the result. Add 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

The arrangement of the figures so that the top of the piston rod in figure 8, 10 and 26 together, and you discover that you are twenty-six years old. It is very simple, and if you are honest with the machine never fails.

REVISED BY SECRETARY, NOW JUDGE McCREARY.

Dr. Hammond is surgeon-general of the army to-day, on the retired list, retired by special act of congress in 1879, when he was fifty years old, and would have had fourteen years to serve until the retiring age. He might draw his pay, $5,000 a year, if he chose, but he has never done it. This question of pay was discussed in congress. The bill retiring the doctor had passed the house in the senate objection was made that Dr. Hammond wanted merely the salary of a physician. House conferring spurned the insinuation for his old friend. All that the surgeon-general wanted was vindication. He said, in 1864, that he would be back in Washington in twenty-five years. He is, Dr. Hammond's yearly income from his practice is about $75,000, and he has perhaps $3,000 a year earned with his pen for pin money for Mrs. Hammond. He sold his house on West Fifty-fourth street in New York to Chauncey M. Depew for $130,000.

The True Eddie of Life.

The True Eddie of Life. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, builds up weak and debilitated systems, gives strength to weakened nerves, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the digestive organs, invigorates and regulates the kidneys and liver, expels disease and gives vigorous health. Young people say: "It is the best medicine we ever took." Old people say: "It makes us feel young again."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, builds up weak and debilitated systems, gives strength to weakened nerves, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the digestive organs, invigorates and regulates the kidneys and liver, expels disease and gives vigorous health. Young people say: "It is the best medicine we ever took." Old people say: "It makes us feel young again."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, builds up weak and debilitated systems, gives strength to weakened nerves, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the digestive organs, invigorates and regulates the kidneys and liver, expels disease and gives vigorous health. Young people say: "It is the best medicine we ever took." Old people say: "It makes us feel young again."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, builds up weak and debilitated systems, gives strength to weakened nerves, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the digestive organs, invigorates and regulates the kidneys and liver, expels disease and gives vigorous health. Young people say: "It is the best medicine we ever took." Old people say: "It makes us feel young again."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, builds up weak and debilitated systems, gives strength to weakened nerves, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the digestive organs, invigorates and regulates the kidneys and liver, expels disease and gives vigorous health. Young people say: "It is the best medicine we ever took." Old people say: "It makes us feel young again."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, builds up weak and debilitated systems, gives strength to weakened nerves, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the digestive organs, invigorates and regulates the kidneys and liver, expels disease and gives vigorous health. Young people say: "It is the best medicine we ever took." Old people say: "It makes us feel young again."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, builds up weak and debilitated systems, gives strength to weakened nerves, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the digestive organs, invigorates and regulates the kidneys and